

Advisory Committee Application Cover Sheet

The Advisory Committee will serve as a humanities lab, actively and collaboratively developing a cross-disciplinary humanities PhD. The committee will work with the P.I. and a small advisory board, conduct research into diverse career initiatives at other universities, study critiques of humanities graduate education, envision possible structures and partnerships for cross-disciplinary humanities collaborations, and consult with UI alumni and other graduates of PhD programs in a range of careers. The group will also provide feedback for plans and proposals each year.

Applications are due February 19, 2019. Email this form (signed and scanned), your CV, and your letter of interest as a SINGLE PDF to obermann-center@uiowa.edu.

Name:

Department(s)/unit(s):

Email address:

Campus mailing address:

For faculty and staff: Position title and description of how you work with graduate students:

For graduate students: Date you began your program(s):

Date you expect to graduate:

Your signature below indicates your willingness to attend bi-weekly meetings and an annual half-day retreat as part of your participant on the Advisory Committee.

Signature: _____ Date:

(Please print document in order to sign)

Supervisor Approval

To be completed by department chair (for faculty applicants), immediate supervisor (for staff), or dissertation director/graduate studies director (for graduate students).

Your name:

Position title:

Your signature below indicates your endorsement of this application.

Signature: _____ Date:

(Please print document in order to sign)

If you, as a supervisor, anticipate that it will be difficult (or impossible) for the applicant to receive a $3,000 stipend, if selected to serve on the committee, please share that information with the applicant and with us, via an email to Obermann Center Director of Operations Erin Hackathorn at erin-hackathorn@uiowa.edu. Thank you.